

GEONI

Los Angeles, California.

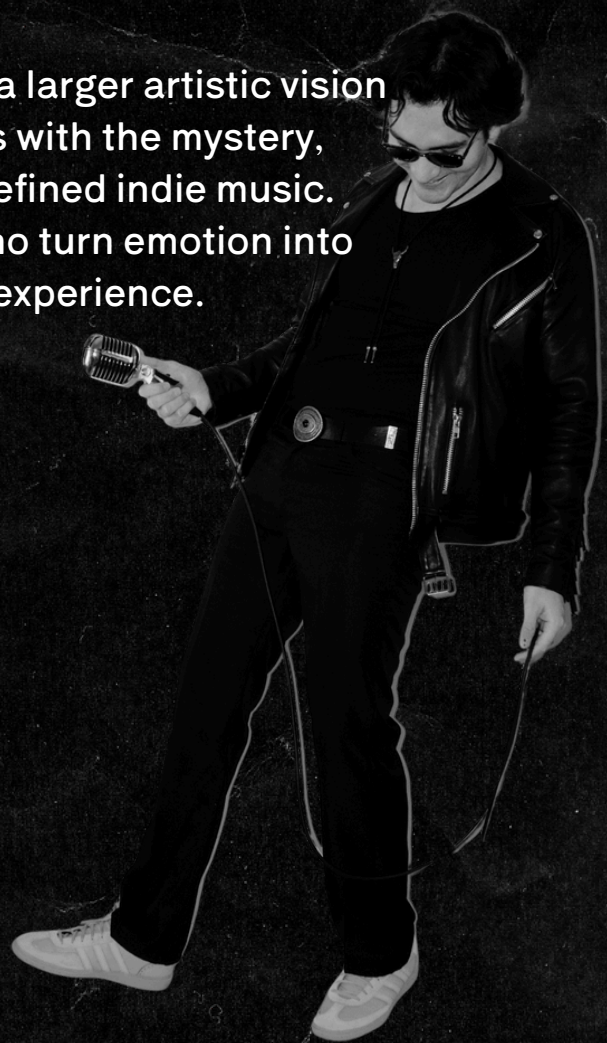

ARTIST BIO

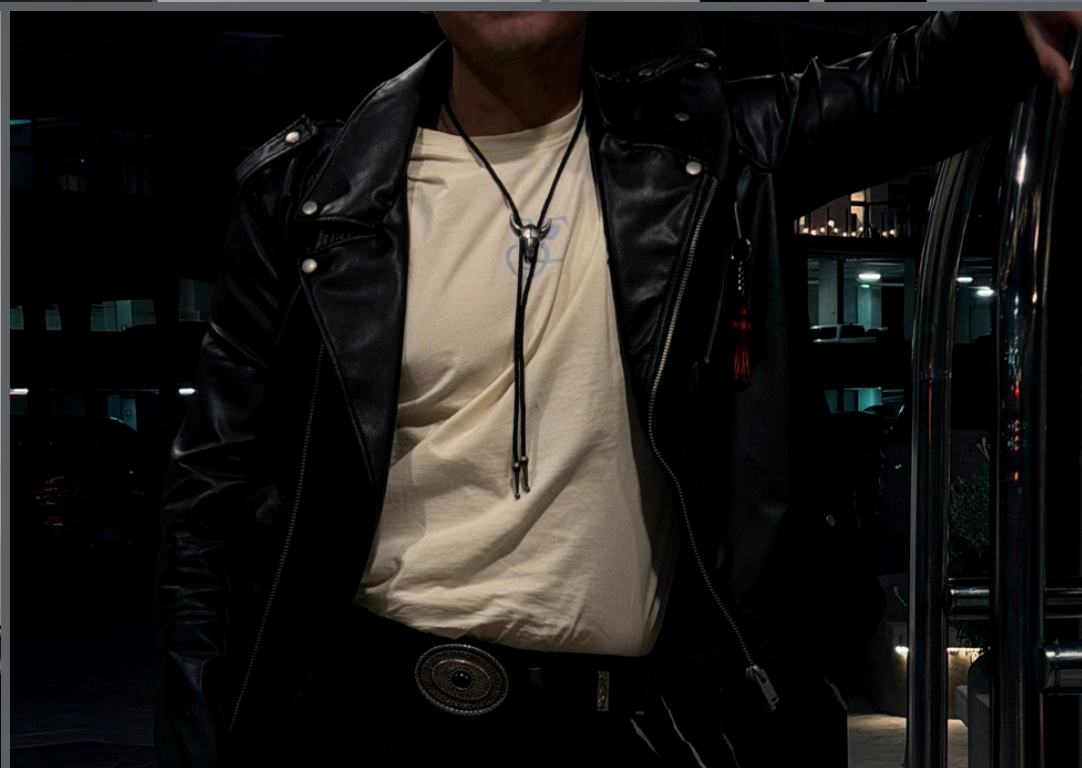

GEONI is a singer, songwriter, and producer shaping a new wave of emotionally driven alternative pop. Blending elements of soul, indie rock, and modern pop, his music lives in the space between intimacy and intensity, where vulnerability meets groove.

With a warm, expressive voice and a cinematic approach to production, GEONI creates songs that feel both personal and universal. His work explores desire, obsession, and emotional duality, often blurring the line between love, music, and identity.

As a self-produced artist and with a warm and expressive voice, he maintains full creative control over his sound and visual direction, building a cohesive artistic universe that extends beyond the music. His latest era, Sweet Obsession, introduces a more direct and refined approach, designed for both late-night listening and live performance energy.

GEONI continues building the foundation of a larger artistic vision that aims to reconnect modern audiences with the mystery, sensuality, and mythic energy that once defined indie music. representing a new generation of artists who turn emotion into atmosphere, and atmosphere into experience.
